Ethnomusic, Inc.

SUMMER 2017 INFORMATION and REGISTRATION FORM For a Five-Day and a Three-Day Teacher Workshop in Chagrin Falls, Ohio

Introduction. Dr. Craig Woodson presents a 30-hour workshop in June and a 15-hour workshop in August. Each one introduces teachers to several types of K-12 classroom drumming through drum set playing, djembe techniques, drum circle facilitation and instrument making. He makes use of his world drumming guide, Roots of Rhythm (RoR). Sessions will be tailored to attendees' needs.

- Location – Both workshops take place at Dr. Woodson's Ethnomusic Studio, 17950 Geauga Lake Rd. Chagrin Falls, Ohio 44023 (25 miles southeast of downtown Cleveland, Ohio). There are reasonably priced hotels and motels in the area.
- Cost – The five-day, 30-hour workshop is $495.00. The 3-day session is $295.00/15 hours.
- Graduate Credits – The June workshop can be taken for two graduate credits for an additional fee of $445.00 paid to Ashland University (OH) during the workshop.
- Certificate of Participation – A certificate for CEUs is available for each workshop.

Each workshop includes:

- An introduction to Roots of Rhythm chapters 1-16, including beginning hand and stick drumming techniques, listening and play-along exercises for K-12 classroom
- How to play the drum set, with special attention to beginning jazz, Latin, and rock beats
- Beginning drum circle facilitation skills for building community, leadership training, classroom management and elements of conflict resolution
- An introduction to skills needed when working with Special Needs students, including the deaf and wheelchair communities
- Making, playing and composing for simple musical instruments from around the world for use in the General Music classroom
- Playing bucket drums in the classroom, and learning about new creative technologies
